

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

EDITORIAL CONTACT

Sara Chaput /LRG Marketing
845-358-1801
schaput@lrgmarketing.com

Maxxess Systems' Multi-Form Panic Solution
Provides Lowest Cost of Entry for Proactive Protection

Ideal as Stand-Alone or Integrated Solution for Schools and Organizations

Las Vegas, NV (April 10, 2019) – Maxxess Systems, the innovator in security solutions that empower total situational awareness for security enterprises, is demonstrating its new Multi-Form Panic Solution here at ISC West 2019 (booth #6065). Designed to work with any smartphone, tablet, PC keyboard or wearable device, the new Multi-Form Panic Solution effectively lowers the cost of entry for proactive security for a wide range of applications.

“The concept for a new, yet simple Multi-Form Panic Solution originated with the development of our new InSite™ Awareness and Response Coordination System, which we are debuting here at ISC West 2019 for the U.S. market,” said Nancy Islas, President of Maxxess Systems. “Our software engineers came up with the idea to incorporate a more efficient panic notification solution for InSite and developed a new Multi-Form Panic Solution that is equally effective and very affordable as a stand-alone solution.”

A software driven solution, Maxxess’ Multi-Form Panic Solution can be configured to work with any smartphone, tablet, PC keyboard or wearable device. It is a clean, green and safe solution that makes an impact right away. It allows organizations to easily deploy a panic notification system without the expense of purchasing and deploying application specific panic buttons and software. The new Multi-Form Panic Solution can also be quickly and affordably deployed as a stand-alone solution or integrated with any of Maxxess Systems’ powerful enterprise system management, control and communications platforms, as well as numerous VMS and access platforms from third-party suppliers.

For more information, visit <https://www.maxxess-systems.com>, or email sales@maxxess-systems.com.

About Maxxess Systems

Maxxess is a U.S.-based, privately held, global corporation specializing in security management solutions and innovative technologies that are effectively transforming the way businesses approach and implement security. Leading organizations worldwide, from healthcare to hospitality and transportation to telecommunications, choose Maxxess for the company’s expertise in security system management software, communications and database integration, as demonstrated with the holistic Maxxess InSite™ Security Management and Communications Solution that empowers total awareness.

XXX